G. of some neighbouring Lodge; but if there be none within three miles, then the certificate shall be signed by the Clergyman, Priest, or any Justice of the Peace in the town or place, the receipt of which shall be sufficient authority for the Officers to pay the several donations, after ascertaining he be good on the books of the Lodge.

28. That if the widow of a deceased member do marry again, and she pay into the Lodge of her late husband, one shilling per quarter during her lifetime, and pounds will, at her death, be paid to those who may have the charge of her interment, (see twenty-sixth Law) provided she contribute to the fund within three months after the death of her husband. The N. G. shall notify her of this law in writing within one week after her husband's death, or cease or be fined five shillings for such neglect. The representatives of such widow shall not be entitled to the above if she be six months bad on the books.

29. That all members of Lodges in this District shall wear black crape, not to exceed three quarters of a yard in length, such crape to be tied with white ribbon on the arm, along with white gloves, when attending funerals of deceased members.
